HIGH COST OF RUNNING CITY IS MADE $4,351,423 HIGHER BY "BUDGET SUPPLEMENT"

Street Cleaning, Water, Gas and Electricity Departments Ask Largely Increased Funds for 1921, Which Do Not Appear in First Estimates.

Involuntary but convincing proof of the evidence in the budget that the burden of taxation in this city could be reduced probably by half if salaries and wages were paid only to those who are required to do the city's work, is furnished by the appropriations granted in the tentative budget to the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity and the Department of Street-Cleaning. These departments will be the subject of to-day's lesson in the high cost of government.

But before taking up the departments it might be well to state that there has come to hand a document entitled "Supplement to Proposed Budget for 1921," which shows additional allowances to various city departments amounting to $4,351,423, to be included in the tax levy. The document is mentioned because it includes records of supplementary appropriations for the Water Supply Department and the Street Cleaning Department which do not appear in the tentative budget or the proposed budget.

The Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity will cost the city in 1921 about 41 per cent. more than it cost in 1917, an increase out of all proportion to the growth of the city. In 1917 the department was allowed $7,702,800, of which $5,990,788 was a tax levy assessment. The department in 1917 employed 1,118 persons on salary and 1,298 on a wage basis.

LESS SALARIED MEN BUT MORE "EMPLOYEES ON WAGE BASIS."

The budget for 1921—including supplementary allowances of $192,341, of which $165,000 approximately is for wages—will amount to $10,895,625, of which approximately $8,991,312 is to be raised by taxation. The number of salaried employees has dropped to 1,032 in four years, but the number of employees on a wage basis has increased over 21 per cent., to a total of 1,578.

The amount allowed for wages in the 1917 budget was $1,097,834. The total allowed for wages in the 1921 budget is $2,219,321. In four years the number of wage earners 21 per cent. and increased the wage outlay more than 100 per cent.

The increase of $1,121,443 in the payroll for wages in 1921 is $23,447 in excess of the total amount paid for wages in the department four years ago.

Taxpayers who have been fascinated by the spick and span appearance of the streets and the almost miraculous removal of garbage every morning will be interested to know that the Street Cleaning Department will cost in 1921—including supplementary appropriations of $1,324,776—a grand total of $18,146,027. TIGERS PREPARED FOR HARD GAME AGAINST NAVY

Rival Elvens Confident of Victory—Princeton Team are Slight Favorites.

(Special to The Evening World.)

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 23.—The Tigers and Middles renewed football relations this afternoon before a crowd of 24,000, a record attendance for this little Revolutionary town for an early season game. The weather was ideal, a warm sun making the great concrete stadium comfortable for the big crowd that will be representative in the orange and black of Princeton and the blue and gold of the Navy.

While few of the 2,000 Middles accompanied their team from Ann Arbor because of classroom duties, the visitors were not without many enthusiastic cohorts. From the countless blue uniforms in the south side of the stadium every warship along the Atlantic had probably contributed its share of rooters for the embryonic Admirals.

The Navy squad, thirty strong, arrived early in the day from Philadelphia for a signal practice. Head Coach Robert Folsom announced his men were in the fettle and were confident of making a creditable showing against the Tigers.

Princeton ruled a favorite, but no Nassau supporter would dare to predict the final score. All the Princeton regulars are in trim, including Hank Garrity, the team's best line plunger, who has been out of the daily scrimmage for some time. The Princeton fullback through signals when the Tiger squad sprinted out in the stadium, and it was inferred he would start against the Middles.

BIG RAIL WALKOUT, SET FOR TO-NIGHT, IS POSTPONED

Action Taken at Request of Striking Miners to Allow Time for Parley.

OUTLOOK IS HOPEFUL.

Negotiations Between Miners and Premier Lloyd George Now in Progress.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The railwaymen have postponed, temporarily, their proposed strike in sympathy with the miners at the request of the miners' executive. It was announced this evening.

The miners have accepted an invitation from Premier Lloyd George for further discussions and the railway strike has been suspended pending the miners' negotiations with the Government. Official announcement of the suspension of the railway strike notices was made shortly after 5 o'clock.

The Evening Standard said it understood that the Premier would present a new formula at the conference which already had received the unofficial approval of several leaders of the miners.

Informal conversations between the Government and individual leaders of the striking British coal miners were resumed this morning. These discussions followed conferences between Premier Lloyd George and several other members of the Government. The Secretary of the miners' organization was among those consulted.

Representatives of the mine owners also conferred with the Government. In consequence of the coal strike the sailing of the Cunard liner Kalerin Augusta Victoria, for New York, scheduled for to-day, has been indefinitely postponed. The Aquitania of the Cunard Line, however, which uses oil fuel, will be able to leave this afternoon and will take some of the passengers booked for the Kalerin Augusta Victoria.

There is division among the railroad men with regard to a strike. A large section of them are opposed to it. J. H. Thomas, General Secretary of the National Union of Railway Men, has authorized the statement that he is against the strike.

At a meeting of the Executive of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen it was decided to defer decision on the question of sympathetic action until Monday. The society is an important and wealthy section of the railway men, distinct from the National Union of Railway Men, and its decision is considered important.

Questions in the House of Commons, House of Lords, the Government leader, declined to discuss it except to refer the situation was very grave. He referred, however, to the Premier's statement last evening, and added:

"The anxiety expressed by Mr. Lloyd George to explore every avenue which could possibly lead to peace still exists, and nothing will be left undone by the Government."

MACSWINEY SAID TO BE AT POINT OF DEATH; 72D DAY

Sisters of Lord Mayor, Barred From Prison, Begin Hunger Strike.

WIFE AT HIS BEDSIDE.

Annie MacSwiney Declares Brother Will Commit Suicide if He Is Fed.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Grave reports were in circulation at noon to-day regarding the condition of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, on the seventy-second day of his hunger strike in Brixton Prison. A statement issued by the Exchange Telegraph Company at that hour declared the Lord Mayor's last moments were at hand.

The bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination League on the Lord Mayor's condition, however, stated the league has been informed that he was in about the same state as recently. He was unconscious, its informant said.

"However," added the statement, "The Home Office has placed an embargo on the use of the telephone for communicating news to the outside, and has forbidden the Lord Mayor's sisters, Mary and Annie, to visit him."

A special messenger sent to the prison brought news regarding the Lord Mayor to the league.

In its report of the sinking condition of Mayor MacSwiney at noon the Exchange Telegraph Company said that Mrs. MacSwiney was with the Mayor at that hour, and that Father Dominic, his private chaplain, also visited him.

The Home Office explained the denial of admission to the Lord Mayor's sisters as being due only to the belief that their visits interfered with the careful nursing which the prisoner's extremely delicate condition required.

"Lord Mayor MacSwiney's condition continues critical," said the Home Office announcement. "The surgery has been slightly remedied."

Annie and Mary MacSwiney, the sisters of the Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, joined him in his hunger strike to-day. Their action followed exhortation by officials of Brixton Prison from his bedside. Annie became hysterical after she and her sister had been compelled to leave the prison.

"Mary and I will remain here in the prison yard and starve until we see Terry," she declared. "If we are thrown out of the yard we will stay at the gate day and night."

Annie MacSwiney declared last night that if the Lord Mayor regained his strength as a result of the forcible feeding now being practiced by the prison physicians he would take his own life.

Friends of MacSwiney. It was learned to-day, have tentatively approached the British Home Office as to whether they would be allowed to take his body back to Cork. The Government is understood to have indicated that such permission might be given a few months after his death.

STRANGLER WOMAN FOUND BY STATEN ISLAND HUNTERS

"Peeping Tom." Under Arrest for Other Crimes, Denies He Murdered Her.

After he had vehemently denied to-day that he knew anything about the murder of the unidentified young woman whose body was found last night in a West New Brighton, S. I., thicket, Hugh O'Hearn, who has confessed to being Staten Island's "Peeping Tom" and the assailant of two small girls, was taken to Connolly's Morgue to be confronted by the body. Information given the detectives influenced them to make O'Hearn look at the dead woman.

Peter Garrigan of No. 428 Davis Avenue picked O'Hearn out of a lineup at the Stapleton Court as being generally similar in dress and build to a man who walked hand-in-hand with a woman Wednesday night down Bard Avenue, near the briar thicket where the body was found. The woman had been annoyed by the hawking of Garrigan's dog which ran toward the pair. Garrigan, talking on the street with two friends, called back the dog, noting that the woman were around her head what he thought was a towel. To-day he identified the murdered woman's white corduroy turban as the head-gear he had noticed.

Garrigan said that a man acquainted with the neighborhood could have gone east 100 yards out across a rough road to Fulton Avenue, where is only twenty feet from where the body was found, although the road was about 1,000 feet from the spot. The police approached from where they went to the thicket.

O'Hearn was discharged in District Police Court to-day upon District Attorney Mahoy's announcement that the man had been indicted twice and would be arraigned in the County Court on Monday, where he has promised to plead guilty to the attack.

Sextro, who had been arrested on the charge of being a burglar, was taken to the apartment building where they adjourned the hearing and made other arrangements for the trip while Mr. Huff was supposed to be shutting the windows, looking the doors and

COX IN WHIRLWIND TOUR SEES BIG NEW YORK CROWDS AND SAYS HE IS CONFIDENT

"Soul of America Aroused for League of Nations," Declares Candidate—"We Have Again the Stirring Fervor That Moved Us in the War."

Gov. James M. Cox began his busy day and night of New York City campaigning by sitting on the edge of a bureau in his rooms in the McJannet Astoria after a late breakfast and inviting twenty or more newspaper reporters to tell him what New York wanted to know about him.

The resulting volley of inquiries covered everything from what he thought of New York's high buildings to his interpretation of the Hitchcock reservations on Article X. of the League of Nations.

The candidate met all comers smilingly, but with the brevity made necessary by the fact that he had only ten minutes before starting on his round of receptions, luncheons and addresses, beginning with the gathering of the college Democratic clubs in the Astor Gallery and ending at Madison Square Garden to-night. COX SEES TURN OF SENTIMENT TOWARD HIM.

As to his impressions gathered in his trip through the country covering nearly every State in the Union, the Governor said:

"I feel strongly the turn in sentiment has come and the tide has set toward us. It has been setting our way for a little more than two weeks. Interest in the League of Nations has come back. I can feel that in the response of audiences. The soul of America has been awakened. We have again the stirring fervor which moved us in the war."

"The mothers and the soldiers have especially rallied to the League. I am confident. I told my friends in September when they talked of results that they were making a dangerous mistake by holding the election in their own minds, in September."

"Do I think the League reservations are similar? I do not. I do not think anybody else does. Eminent lawyers have been explaining how they differ for ten months and I am not going to enter on a two minute lecture on the subject. I am asked whether I stand on the League with the Hitchcock reservations. Despite unasked interpretations of my attitude I say that any one who closes his mind absolutely on the League or any feature of it and says so far will be go and no further is an unwise man. In fact, in the open minded on the whole question."

Gov. Cox, thoroughly exhausted by his trip through New Jersey when ended at Hoboken at midnight, slept late, missing an engagement for breakfast at eight o'clock, with Chairman George White of the Democratic Committee and Senator Pat Harrison of the Speakers' Bureau. He had then come to his room and breakfast with him and Mrs. Cox.

COX MAKES FIRST FORECAST OF CABINET.

Addressing representatives of the Young Americans Democratic League, an uproariously enthusiastic gathering of college men and women at the Astor Gallery, Gov. Cox said in his first speech of the day:

"I am in this Presidential fight unfeathered and unaided by any campaign promises. I have no obligation even to the extent of promising to appoint any one to a fourth-class postmaster position."

"I am free to accept my Cabinet from the brains of America and I shall put in for one—the best in
